Imagine if all people could fully realize and exercise their sexual and reproductive health and rights. Girls and women could attain their full potential, future generations would benefit, and the world would prosper.